

HADDOCK SHOW RISE.

BUT PRICES OF OTHER FISH ARE LOW AT T WHARF FOR MONDAY MORNING.

Although there is no great supply of fish at T wharf this morning, prices do not look up very high for the Monday morning opening. An improvement is noted in the price of haddock however, while cod is steadily going down the scale and hake are but splitting prices, with pollock also low.

In all there were 27 trips at the pier when business opened this morning, four being pollockers. Only one of the steam trawlers, the Ripple, was in, but the Crest and one other are looked for before the day is over. The Ripple brought 54,000 pounds, mostly haddock.

Sch. Benjamin A. Smith, from the eastward, has the largest trip of the day, 62,000 pounds, 40,000 pounds of which are cod. Sch. Robert and Arthur has 51,000 pounds and sch. Regina 48,000 pounds, sch. Matthew S. Greer 51,000 pounds, but outside of these the fares run small.

Haddock sold at $2.50, $3 and $3.50 and large cod went at $3.50, some few new fish reaching $5.50. Pollock brought $1.60 and hake were quoted at $1.30 to $1.50.

Sold Fares in Portland.

Both of the Gloucester fishing schooners which arrived here on Thursday found purchasers for their fares Friday. Sch. Effie M. Morrissey took out her fare of 70,000 pounds of mixed fish at Willard's on Commercial wharf, the catch being the largest reported here for a long time. The Morrissey is a fast sailer, making torun up from Seal Islands, N. S., a distance of 180 miles in about 20 hours, and would have done still better if the wind had not canted just before she reached this vicinity. The schooner was out only about a fortnight and reports fine weather most of the time. The other schooner, sch. Senator, sold her whole fare, 8000 pounds of halibut, 15,000 pounds of fresh fish and 18,000 pounds of salt cod to the J. W. Trefethen Co. He received 11 and 14 cents per pound for his halibut, and made a good stock on the whole lot.

GETTING FEW MACKEREL.

NETTERS HAVING POOR SUCCESS
LATELY BUT THINK FISH WILL AGAIN SHOW.

The local fleet of mackerel netters have not met with much success of late. The weather has been not at all suited to their work. The skippers do not think the fish have gone by and go out every night hoping to again strike big fishing. They propose to hang to it for quite a while yet.

Saturday afternoon most of the fleet came back with no fish, some having a very few and yesterday those who went out had the same story to tell; some got none, while others had a barrel or so. Sch. Freedom, with 180 fish had the most of any. Last night most of the fleet went out again. At Rockport yesterday, the netters coming in there brought no fish.

Big schools of tinker mackerel, regular "blinks," and apparently this year's spawning, have struck in along Cape Cod and some of the traps have secured large hauls. At Boston today, from there, are 160 barrels of these little fish which it were better to leave in the water unmolested than to try to catch.

On the Yarmouth, N. S., steamer at Boston yesterday were 71 barrels of fresh mackerel which are selling this morning at 22 cents each.

The Halifax steamer, due today, is scheduled to bring 200 barrels of fresh mackerel from Port Hawkesbury and Halifax, all for the Boston market.

Last Seiner Abandons Fishing.

Sch. Nellie Dixon, the last of the seining fleet now operating on the shore, is in here for harbor today, but the weather has not favored. The craft will now haul up, sailing for Boston this morning to wind up the voyage.

The Bucksport, Me., sch. T. M. Nicholson has arrived at her home port, from a dory headline trip with a good fare. Her captain reports good fishing of late at the Virginia Rocks.

Nov. 7.

Cargo Will Be Brought Here.

Sch. Eric, which was caught in the big October gale, while taking the balance of her cargo of fish at White Point Breakwater, North Sydney, is reported a total loss and lies on her beam ends on the sand bar at Sandy Point. It is reported that when the schooner rolled over at the breakwater a large hole was punched in her side, but later she snapped the huge hawser and drifted over to the Scotch Cove Beach, where the storm put the finishing touches on her cargo. The cargo of fish which was owned by Moulton & Co. of North Sydney and was to be brought here, was removed and transferred to another vessel and will come here.

Fisherman Made Good Money.

Enos MacIntosh, who has been purchasing squid for the Maritime Fish Co. of Canso, paid out almost $2000 to Port Hawkesbury, C. B., fishermen during the past fortnight at prices ranging from $2 to $3.50 per barrel.

LARGE FLEET AT T WHARF.

FEW LARGE FARES BUT VESSELS
HAVE CONSIDERABLE FISH
ALTOGETHER.

T wharf is a wooden island this morning completely surrounded by vessels. Both basins are full and the crafts are strung way out into the harbor on the end. Late arrivals had to anchor in the stream.

With a good westerly today there will be a general clearing out and the big fleet of 39 vessels there this morning with fish will have a chance to get to the wharf to take out.

There is more hake than anything else in the trips and the market seems dull on off shore goods, for up to 9 o'clock only the shore and market boats had sold, and the dealers, although making offers to the offshore skippers did not seem anxious to take their fares.

There were but few large fares, but the total of the fleet is considerable. Yesterday afternoon sch. Terra Nova brought in 69,000 pounds, took out a few and started for Gloucester with the rest for the splitters. This morning sch. Ethel B. Penney has 55,000 pounds, sch. Flora S. Nickerson 73,000, 50,000 pounds of which are cod.

Three of the mackerel netting fleet are in sch. Motor with 400 fish, sch. M. Madeleine with 500 and sch. Massasoit with 500.

Sch. Paragon of the fresh halibut fleet, is among the arrivals with a small fare of halibut, 6000 pounds. She also has 34,000 pounds of fresh fish and 10,000 pounds of salt fish.

Shore haddock sold for $3 and $3.25 and shore large cod went for $3.25 and $4. Hake, cusk and pollock continued low and the fresh mackerel went at 25 cents for large and 16 cents for mediums.

Highest Price for Fish at St. John's, N. F.

On October 30, the price of cod reached the highest figure this season, at St. John's, N. F., one Water street firm paying $6.60 talqual, others offered $6.55 and $6.50 for large, medium and small merchantable and Maderia. The prices for West India and haddock remain unchanged with but small offerings. Cod oil also advanced slightly, ranging from $112 to $125, according to quality. Lobsters and salmon remain at same rates as last week.

Provincetown Fish Notes.

Schs. Josephine DeCosta, Rose Cabral and W. A. Morse have been withdrawn from the fishing fleet until after New Year's.

Mackerel were taken in the traps first of the week in moderate quantities.

Quite a large consignment of swordfish was shipped from the Fisherman's Cold Storage, Monday.

Large Herring at Bonne Bay, N. F.

A dispatch to the Times last evening states that herring in countless numbers have struck in lately at Bonne Bay, N. F., and also states that the fish are of very large size, going from 220 to 250 count to a tub. The fishermen there state they never saw herring so numerous in Bonne Bay before and of such good quality. Evidently there are but few American vessels there, as the dispatch states that any craft could load now very quickly.

Dory Handliners Reported.

Schs. Miranda, Olga and Titania, of the dory headline fleet were reported on the Scatteri grounds recently and the salt trawl banker Premier was also there and fishing under sail.

Late Swordfish.

It's more than late for swordfish, but sch. Joseph H. Cromwell, which arrived at T wharf, Boston, yesterday, had nine of them. They were little fellows and were caught on the trawls.

Haddock Trip Stock.

Sch. Lucania, Capt. Martin L. Welch stocked $2370 as the result of her recent haddock trip, the crew sharing $54.60 clear.

Large Fish Receipts at Portland.

When seven fishing schooners and a number of small fishing boats came into Portland yesterday laden with fish the season record for the amount of fish to be landed in one day was broken as the total amount taken from the fishing boats amounted to 110,000 pounds of mixed fish. Practically all the vessels in the local fleet came into port and their fares ranged from 8000 to 20,000 pounds.

The fare of each vessel was as follows: sch. Marion Turner, 20,000 lbs. mixed fish; sch. Edmund Black, 8000 lbs. mixed fish; sch. Wesley W. Sinnett, 10,000 lbs. mixed fish; sch. Sch. Yakima, Capt. Robert Wharton, stocked $3853 as the result of her recent 13 days fresh halibut trip, the crew making the fine share of $112 clear, big pay indeed for 13 days work. In addition to this regular share most of the crew had some "hand line" halibut, which brought their shares up to all the way from $115 to $128 per man. Capt. Wharton has been doing well and making quick trips.

COD FROM GULF OF ST. LAWRENCE.

SCH. SYLVANIA BROUGHT GOOD DORY HANDLINE TRIP YESTERDAY.

Yesterday afternoon, sch. Sylvania, Capt. Lemuel Eirth, came in from a dory hand line trip, with a fine fare, 260,000 pounds of salt cod. The major portion of the fare was taken in the Gulf of St. Lawrence and as the craft has been gone only since August 1, the catch is a fine one. It goes to Sylvanus Smith & Company, incorporated, the owners of the vessel.

Sch. Mary E. Silveira took out 6000 pounds of fresh fish to market.

Two of the netters were in up to noon, the Julietta with 375 large fresh mackerel and the Dixie with 200, the fish selling at 22 1-2 cents each.

NEWFOUNDLAND FISH SALES.

St. John's Paper Wide of the Mark on Actual Transactions.

The St. John's, N. F., Chronicle says:

"In spite of all the talk that has been current for weeks past about the big purchase made by Americans of fish around our coast, the total quantity shipped thus far does not amount to two million pounds, and it seems unlikely, therefore, that the claim of some of the Gloucester dealers that they would purchase five million pounds on our coast this fall is likely to be realized. The incoming of the Yankee buyers, however, has helped materially to put up the price, and it is to be hoped that in future seasons they will be found engaged in this business also."

As five Newfoundland vessels have already arrived here the past week from Newfoundland port with 1,750,000 pounds of Newfoundland salt fish and eight more are now loading or on the way with nearly 3,000,000 pounds more and six more crafts chartered to bring still more, together with 2,000,000 pounds more offered to firms here this week, by Newfoundland merchants, it looks as though the Chronicle, usually well informed, was somewhat in the dark on what has been going on regarding fish purchases of late by Gloucester dealers.

Fulton Market Fish Notes.

Prices were low on most varieties of fish during the latter part of last week and trade was light, says the Fishing Gazette. Smacks landed about 200,000 pounds of bluefish and sea bass. There were 22 trips of blues, with 35,080 fish, which at an average weight of five pounds, meant 175,400 pounds. Four trips of sea bass had a total of 266 bushels, or 21,280 pounds. Four trips of codfish had a total of 9100 fish.

Codfish was high in price during the early part of the week. Market fish sold for the first three days at 5c to 5 1-2c and 3c to 4c during the balance of the week. Steak fish during the greater part of the week brought 8c to 10c. The price on Friday was 6c to 7c.

Flounders were low in price during the last half of the week, the quotation being 2 1-2c to 3c. Early in the week the price was 3c to 4c.

Haddock was quoted at 3c to 5c and hake at 3c to 4c. Pollock sold at 3 1-2c to 5c, the high price prevailing during the last half of the week.

Western white halibut sold at 13c to 14c.

Pensacola Fish Arrivals.

A total of 116,000 pounds was landed by the Pensacola, Florida, fishing smacks last week, says the Fishing Gazette. Of the amount, 5000 pounds were grouper, taken by three vessels of the E. E. Saunders & Co. fleet. That firm had five arrivals in all, their total take being 40,000 pounds, against 36,000 pounds of red snapper to the Warren Fish Co. The biggest single haul was 27,000 pounds, of which 1000 pounds were grouper. The lucky vessel was the Lottie G. Howard to E. E. Saunders & Co. The biggest catch made by a smack of the Warren Fish Co. fleet was 24,000 pounds, on the Ariola.

Receipts, other than those mentioned above, were:

E. E. Saunders & Co.—Smack Favorite, 12,000 lbs. red snapper, 2000 lbs. grouper; smack Carrie B. Welles, 6000 lbs. red snapper, 2000 lbs. grouper; smack Priscilla, 12,000 lbs. red snapper; smack Lottie Haskins, 19,000 lbs. red snapper.

Warren Fish Co.—Smack Galatea, 2000 lbs. red snapper; smack Si's Stearns, 8000 lbs. do.; smack Halcyon, 2000 lbs. do.

Canso, N. S., Fish Notes.

The prospects for big fall and winter fishing were never brighter and it looks as if 1911-12 will be a record season. Fishermen never entered upon a season's work with more hopefulness and confidence than that which characterizes their preparations this year.

Several new boats have been added to the splendid fleet which has always been the admiration of those interested in the fishing industry. These latest additions are Winnifred M., owned by Martin Meagher; Ena E., owned by Robert Mosher, and Stanley Hubley, owned by James Luke-man. These were all built by Amos Stephens of Tancook. The latest addition just arrived from the builder, Reuben Heisler of Tancook, is owned by Kavanagh Brothers, and is a splendid type of fishing boat.

Mackerel have been scarce, and although splendid preparation was made, small returns have yet been realized from the fishermen's outlay.

Portland Fish Notes.

The arrivals Sunday, were: Sch. Mary E. Sennett, with 4500 lbs. fish; schs. Topsail Girl, with 15,000 lbs. fish; Albert W. Black, 8000; and Wesley W. Sennett, 8000.

The local fishing steamers Elthier and Pet have been meeting with great luck the past few days in the herring fishing industry off Cape Porpoise. They secured several hundred barrels of good sized fish, which they have sold to the Neptune Packing Co. of Boothbay Harbor for smoking. The fish are reported as being very plentiful in the vicinity of Cape Porpoise and several other boats from this city will try their luck there this week.

An arrival Sunday was the schooner Ned P. Walker from Gloucester, with a cargo of salt consigned to W. H. Shurtleff & Co.

Four of the pollock fleet are in, but the catches show no improvement over last week and this fleet as a whole is doing poorly.

ALL READY FOR SAILING.

SCH. VICTOR AND ETHAN READY TO START ON PACIFIC TRIP.

The Boston knockabout fishing sch. Victor and Ethan is scheduled to sail from T wharf at 10 o'clock this forenoon, bound on her long voyage around Cape Horn, to Seattle, from which port she will engage in fresh halibuting.

Capt. Herbert W. Nickerson, owner of the craft, will not make the voyage, but will go by train, taking his family with him. He figures to leave Boston so as to reach Seattle about the time the vessel is due there.

The craft will carry a full crew of fishermen from Boston and will make the trip in command of Capt. Robert Lathigee. It is calculated that the voyage will take about 100 days.

Herring Struck On Main Coast.

Herring have struck in again in great numbers to the eastward and a dozen boats of various kinds were in at Portland Monday with full fares. Most of them were from Cape Porpoise, where the harbor is said to be filled with one solid mass of fish. The steamers Elthier and Pet were in with about 90 barrels each, the former landing most of her catch at the South Portland sardine factory, while the latter went to Boothbay Harbor with her catch. The sloops Hattie and Eliza, Nellie G. York, Holson and Hardscrabble were all in with good catches, there being a good market for all. The fish coming in now are of fairly good size and are being used for smoking, one schooner yesterday taking on several hundred barrels at Long wharf for shipment east. The fish are also being found in great quantities at Yarmouth, the power boat Dorothy D. bringing up 60 barrels from there Monday. The fish warden at Cape Porpoise telephoned in Portland yesterday a warning to fishermen against dumping dead fish in that harbor. Some of the fishermen having taken more fish than their boats would carry have dumped the balance overboard, a practice which is very apt to kill the fishing in the vicinity. Reports from the eastward are to the effect that the herring catch is still good, and already the sardine pack is far ahead of any previous season, and nearly four weeks yet to run before the factories close down. An Eastport dispatch says there has been such a heavy pack of sardines that all the cellars in town are full, most of which will be held until the market gets stronger.
